The Explorer Package: Call it the wonders of a wild life documentary and the excitement of the zoo, bundled together and delivered to your classroom.

Field trips provide a great learning incentive, but when compared to other alternatives, we offer a better product and value.

A better product means shows are not generic, but tailored to age or grade. A one-on-one learning experience with group and individual reptile interaction not available at commercial venues.

And a logical solution, when comparing the transportation cost and responsibilities of a field trip with the hassle-free convenience of the field trip coming to you.
